			Course Attendance Requirement
All courses provided by Ensign are required for students to attend with their respective grade level. Students are expected to participate in all scheduled courses as part of the standard academic program.
Exceptions may be granted under the following circumstances:
	1. Documented Physical Disability - A student may be excused from a course if a physical disability prevents participation. A physician's note confirming the condition and explain the limitation must be provided by the parent.
	2. Administrative Academic Adjustment for Critical Students - In cases where a student is identified as academically critical (a Critical Student), administration may approve an adjusted academic plan. This plan may allow a necessary support course to replace another required course when it is determined to be essential for the student's academic success. This would also be dependent upon scheduling and class space.
