

Spelling list 8

reference	binoculars	seismograph monotony	triceps	depreciate accessible	acceptance	Christianity considerable	assurance	neutrality manageable	appliance	inequality noticeable	disturbance	severity bicycle	photography defer: to submit to another's wishes monarchy: a nation governed by a king or queen credible: can be believed geology: the study of the earth through rocks biennial: occurring every two years or lasting for two years (as plants) triune: being three in one defiance: non-cooperation; rebelliousness; deliberate disobedience allegiance: devotion; loyalty hindrance: something that gets in the way descendant: one who comes down from a common ancestor supernatural: relating to more than the natural universe; relating to God immunity: the body's ability to resist an infection or disease absurdity: that which is ridiculous or silly priority: that which comes before in order of importance