

Spelling List 33

infection: a disease that spreads information: news; data infuriate: to enrage incorporate: to combine or join into one body or unit inducted: placed formally into a group catapult: to throw or launch catalog: a complete list of items in a collection cataract: a large waterfall catalyst: a substance that changes the rate of a chemical reaction; a person or thing that causes something to occur or speed up catastrophe: a disaster cataclysm: a violent flood; earthquake, or other sudden change in the earth medicinal: pertaining to medicine accidental: happening by chance national: pertaining to a nation or country optical: pertaining to the eyes agricultural: pertaining to farming political: pertaining to government aisle: a passageway

isle: an island

I'll the contraction for "I will"

pair: a couple; two pare: to peel

pear: a fruit

rain: precipitation

reign: to rule

rein: a bridle

their: a possessive pronoun there: in that place they're: the contraction for "they are"

two: a couple to: toward too: in addition; excessively vein: a blood vessel vain: proud

vane: a flat piece of metal or a strip of cloth that shows the wind's direction